

Contents

List of contributors	vii
Foreword by Norris Krueger	ix
Preface	xi
Acknowledgement	xii
Introduction: becoming an entrepreneur and developing entrepreneurial behaviour	1
Paula Kyrö, Odd Jarl Borch, Alain Fayolle and Elisabet Ljunggren
PART I THE PROCESS OF BECOMING AND LEARNING TO BECOME AN ENTREPRENEUR
1 Does education matter? The characteristics and performance of businesses started by recent university graduates	13
Colin Mason, Stephen Tagg and Sara Carter
2 Temporal stability of entrepreneurial intentions: a longitudinal study	34
Francisco Liñán, Juan C. Rodríguez-Cohard and Joaquín Guzmán
3 Meta processes of entrepreneurial and enterprising learning: the dialogue between cognitive, conative and affective constructs	56
Paula Kyrö, Jaana Seikkula-Leino and Jarkko Mylläri
4 Entrepreneurial opportunity identification: the case of Skype Technologies	85
Rok Stritar and Mateja Drnovšek
PART II ENTREPRENEURSHIP AS A SOCIAL PROCESS OF BECOMING ENTREPRENEURIAL
5 Heuristic method: insights into a conceptual understanding of women's entrepreneurship and social capital	111
Iris Aaltio, Paula Kyrö and Elisabeth Sundin

6	Entrepreneurs' social capital enhancing performance and venture advancement Hannes Ottósson and Thomas Schott	134
7	Structuring the field of social entrepreneurship: a transatlantic comparative approach Sophie Bacq and Frank Janssen	153
PART III THE PROCESS OF CREATING AND DEVELOPING ENTREPRENEURIAL ORGANIZATIONS
8	Mapping internationalization paths of technology-based SMEs: cases of Estonian ICT and biotechnology companies Kalev Kaarna and Tõnis Mets	189
9	Exploring firm growth as a process of creation Tuija Mainela, Vesa Puhakka and Sakari Sipola	214
10	The influence of organizational characteristics on intentions of employees towards corporate entrepreneurship Olga Belousova	228
	Index	255