

Contents

List of contributors	vii
Preface	ix
1 Local societies and rural people's self-organizing activities: an analytical framework Shinichi Shigetomi and Ikuko Okamoto	1
PART I LOCALITY GROUPS AND HOST ORGANIZATIONS IN LOCAL SOCIETY
2 Composition of locality groups as the basis of local social systems: the case of rural Thailand Shinichi Shigetomi	23
3 Rural development in a multi-layered local system: a poverty reduction program case in Central Vietnam Misaki Iwai	45
4 Organizing community forestry in rural Myanmar: capability and functions of villages Ikuko Okamoto	67
PART II LOCAL SOCIETY AND ORGANIZATIONAL FORMS
5 Organizational responses of local societies in regional diversity: case study of a microfinance project in rural Indonesia Motoko Shimagami	103
6 Forms of collective actions in a dyadically woven local society: the case of rural Philippines Atsuko Hayama	129
7 Common fund procurement through rent collection: a form of collective action for public works and public services in Indian villages Akina Venkateswarlu and Shinichi Shigetomi	163

- 8 Communal resource-driven rural development: the salient feature of organizational activities in Chinese villages 186
Nanae Yamada

PART III CONCLUSION

- 9 Propositions for understanding local society for rural development 219
Shinichi Shigetomi

- Index* 227