

Contributors

Syed O. Alhabshi, PhD, is the Dy President at the INCEIF (the International Centre for Education in Islamic Finance). He holds the post of Professor of Islamic Finance (Takaful). After a lengthy, illustrious career with top positions in several universities, he is for practical purposes the operations chief of the INCEIF. Syed specializes in insurance research, and consulting, and also holds key positions in the industry bodies.

Mohamed Ariff, PhD, holds the Chair of Economics and Finance at Sunway University, Kuala Lumpur, a leading private university, where the University of Lancaster, UK, offers its degrees. He worked for 20 years at the Monash University, Melbourne, and at Bond University, Robina. He is a specialist in Asian Pacific Finance and in Islamic Finance. Mohamed is a founder, and served as the elected president, of the Asian Finance Association in 2006–07. He has authored/edited and co-authored 35 books and 163 journal articles, and he is the series editor for Edward Elgar Ltd for Islamic Finance.

Gülsüm Ç. Dolgun, a senior expert at the central bank of Turkey, has experience in dealing with open market operations and Treasury auctions. With a bachelor's degree from the Middle East Technical University, Turkey, she has completed a master's degree at the University of Connecticut, USA. Gülsüm is now pursuing research towards a PhD at the INCEIF, Malaysia.

Muhammed H. Dolgun is a senior expert at the central bank of Turkey, where he is in charge of research, and of publications on financial stability, banking standards, Islamic finance and the Basel Accords. With a bachelor's degree from the Middle East Technical University, Turkey, he is an advanced student in the PhD program at the INCEIF. Muhammed won a best paper prize in 2015 at the International Congress on Islamic Economics and Finance. From July 2013 to January 2015 he worked at International Islamic Liquidity Management Corporation (IILM), where he was attached to businesses.

John Farrar, PhD, is the Emeritus Professor of Law at the University of Auckland.

Mohamed A. Gadhoom is from Tunisia and is currently in the PhD program at the INCEIF. He holds a degree in Mathematics, and is trained in Islamic Jurisprudence at the University of Sharjah in UAE. Mohamed has relevant work experience as a consultant at the International Shariah Research Academy, Malaysia: he had a brief posting at the product development department of the BNP Paribas Islamic Bank, Kuala Lumpur.

Farrukh Habib, PhD, holds a research position at the Shariah Research Academy for Islamic Finance, ISRA, Malaysia. He is also the co-editor of ISRA International Journal of Islamic Finance. He specializes in Islamic law and jurisprudence (Shariah) while doing research in Islamic Finance mostly.

Mazen El Khatib is a graduate student at the School of Graduate Studies, International Centre for Education in Islamic Finance, Kuala Lumpur. He is a marketing specialist, and is on study leave from a multinational corporation in Riyaad, Saudi Arabia.

Ahcene Lahsasna, PhD, is an associate professor at the INCEIF, where, as a Deputy Director, he is responsible for the research and publication centre. His bachelor's degree in Islamic Law and Islamic Jurisprudence is from Algeria, while his master's and PhD degrees are from the International Islamic University Malaysia. As a registered Sharīah Advisor, he serves as advisor to Maybank, Etiqa Takaful, and RGA Re-Takaful in Labuan. Ahcene is also certified Trainer at CIBAFI, the General Council for Islamic Banks and Financial Institutions, Bahrain.

Ziyaad Mahomed, PhD, is the Managing Director of IFISA, the Shariah Advisory, Strategy and Training Consultancy for Islamic Financial Institutions. He holds the position of Assistant Professor at the School of Graduate Studies, INCEIF (International Centre for Education in Islamic Finance), Kuala Lumpur.

Abbas Mirakhor, PhD, is the first holder of the INCEIF Islamic Finance Chair since 2010, and he is widely considered as a specialist in Islamic finance with his knowledge of Arabic and the Quran. A former Executive Director of the IMF with 24 years spent at IMF, he retired in 2008. Abbas is a graduate of the Kansas State University, USA, where he received degrees including a PhD in Economics. He worked for two years at the AzZahara University, Iran, and has had an academic career as a Professor of Economics at the University of Alabama, the Alabama A&M University and the Florida Institute of Technology.

Shamsher Mohamad, PhD, is Professor of Finance in the School of Graduate Studies, INCEIF (International Centre for Education in Islamic Finance). He is a specialist in corporate finance and capital markets. Formerly, he held a position as Second Secretary in the elected Board of the Asian Finance Association. Shamsher has authored/edited and co-authored 10 books and has published in leading journals in his area of expertise.

Magda I.A. Mohsin, PhD, is an associate professor at the INCEIF, and she specializes in the law and practice of waqf (endowment). With a bachelor's degree earned in 1984 from the Cairo University, Khartoum, she later obtained her master's and PhD from the International Institute of Islamic Thought and Civilization at the IIUM in 2003. Magda is the author of a book: Cash Waqf: A New Financial Product and Corporate Waqf: From Principle to Practice (Pearson Malaysia). She has to her credit articles on waqf, zakat, microfinance and economic systems.

M. Eskandar Shah Rasid, PhD, is an associate professor at the INCEIF, where, as the Deputy Dean, he is responsible for Graduate Studies. He obtained his PhD in Finance from the University of Nottingham, England. Prior to that, he earned a master's degree from the University of Queensland. Eskandar's research interests are in asset pricing, portfolio theory, capital structure and international finance, with a few publications in refereed journals.

Shaikh H.A. Razak is an associate professor at the INCEIF. He obtained a DBA from the University Science Malaysia (USM) after earning an MBA from Central Missouri State University, USA. From 1974, Shaikh was with the Malayan Banking group, and held several posts including branch manager before joining the INCEIF in 1997. He is actively involved in Islamic finance consultancy and conducts training for the Islamic finance industry.

Saiful A. Rosly, PhD, is a professor at the INCEIF. He obtained bachelor's and master's degrees in Economics from the Northern Illinois University, USA. His PhD is from the National University of Malaysia. Saiful joined the International Islamic University Malaysia (IIUM) in 1983, and in 2006 moved to the INCEIF. In industry, he formerly served on boards as an independent director for EON Capital Islamic Bank and the Federation of Investment Managers Malaysia (FIMM). He served as Shariah Committee Member at the BSN Prudential Takaful.

Zulkarnain M. Sori, PhD, is Professor of Accounting in the School of Graduate Studies, INCEIF (International Centre for Education in Islamic Finance). His expertise is in auditing and Shariah audit.

Jamaliah Abdul Thahir is head of the Islamic Finance Unit at the Labuan Financial Services Authority (Labuan Offshore), a key international organization for offshore banking. She is responsible for Islamic financial business in Labuan Offshore. Jamaliah began her career in Bank Negara Malaysia in 1994, and has served in a number of different capacities in the Economics Department, Investment Department and the Islamic Banking/Takaful Department. She earned a first class bachelor's degree from the International Islamic University Malaysia. She is professionally qualified as a Chartered Financial Analyst (1999).

Adelina Zuleikha is from West Sumatra in Indonesia, and has obtained a bachelor's degree in Shariah Islamiyah from the Al Azhar University, Egypt. She obtained a master's degree from the INCEIF, Malaysia. Adelina is a member of staff in the Faculty of Islamic Economics and Business, at the Islamic State Institute in Indonesia. She authored a publication in Tazkia Islamic Finance and Business Review in 2014.