

Contributors

Abayomi Al-Ameen, Dr. jur. (Swansea University), is a lecturer in commercial law at Cardiff University, UK.

Mor Bakhoun, Dr. jur. (University of Lausanne), LL.M. (Lausanne/Chicago-Kent), is a senior research fellow at the Max Planck Institute for Innovation and Competition, Munich, Germany.

Peter Behrens, Dr. iur. (University of Hamburg), M.C.J. (New York University), is professor emeritus of law (University of Hamburg, Faculty of Law) and Director at the Institute for European Integration of the Europa-Kolleg Hamburg, Germany.

David Bosco, Ph.D. (Aix-Marseille University), is full professor at Aix-Marseille University, France. He is director of the Institut de droit des affaires d'Aix-Marseille.

Thomas K. Cheng, JD (Harvard), is an associate professor at the Faculty of Law of the University of Hong Kong. He is a member of the Competition Commission and the Business Facilitation Advisory Committee in Hong Kong. He is also a member of the executive board of the Academic Society for Competition Law (Ascola).

Fabiana Di Porto, Ph.D. (Universities of Perugia and R. Schuman, Strasbourg), M.Sc. (LSE), is associate professor of law at the University of Salento, Italy. She is co-director of the Italian journal 'Concorrenza e mercato. Competition, Regulation, consumer welfare, IP' and a member of the executive board of the Academic Society for Competition Law (Ascola).

Valeria Falce, Ph.D. (University of Perugia), LL.M. (LSE), is full professor of law at Università Europea di Roma, where she serves as director of the Research Centre on Information, Innovation and Copyright Law (CREDA) and is a member of the Italian Board of Appeal against Italian Patent and Trademark Office Decisions. She is a member of the executive board of the Academic Society for Competition Law (Ascola).

Fang Xiaomin, Dr. iur. (University of Göttingen), is full professor of law at Nanjing University, the People's Republic of China, and adjunct professor at Göttingen University, Germany. She is director of the German-Sino Institute of Legal Studies at Nanjing University and co-director of the German-Sino Institute of Legal Studies at Göttingen University.

Allan Fels, AO, Ph.D. (Duke), is a professorial fellow at the University of Melbourne, an adjunct professor at Monash University and a visiting professor at Oxford University. He was previously the chairman of the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission and other executive bodies.

Kazuhiko Fuchikawa, Ph.D. (Keio University), is associate professor at the Faculty of Economics, Yamaguchi University, Japan, and a fellow of the Competition Policy Research Center (CPRC) of the Japanese Fair Trade Commission.

Michal S. Gal, SJD (University of Toronto), LL.M. (Toronto), is professor and director of the Forum on Law and Markets at the Faculty of Law, University of Haifa, Israel. She is the president of the Academic Society for Competition Law (Ascola).

Maria Ioannidou, D.Phil. (University of Oxford), M.Jur. (Oxford), is a senior lecturer in competition law at the School of Law, Queen Mary University of London, where she also serves as Deputy Director of the Interdisciplinary Centre for Competition Law and Policy.

Matthew Lees, LL.M. (Melbourne), is a partner of the law firm Arnold Bloch Leibler in Melbourne, Australia.

Lorenz Marx, Dr. jur. (University of Bayreuth), LL.M. (King's College London), is a competition law associate at Hogan Lovells in Munich. Before joining private practice he was a research assistant and lecturer at the University of Bayreuth.

Luís Silva Morais, Ph.D. (University of Lisbon), is full professor of law at the University of Lisbon, Portugal, and holds the Jean Monnet Chair on EU Economic Regulation. He is the founder and chairman of the Research Centre on Regulation and Supervision of the Financial Sector.

Paul Nihoul, Doctor of Laws (Université catholique de Louvain), is a judge at the General Court of the European Union and a professor at the Université catholique de Louvain, Belgium. He was the Chairman of the Academic Society for Competition Law (Ascola) from 2013 to 2016.

Rupprecht Podszun, Dr. jur. (Ludwig Maximilians University Munich), is a professor at Heinrich Heine University, Düsseldorf, Germany, and director of the Institute for Competition Law. He is also an affiliated research fellow with the Max Planck Institute for Competition and Innovation, Munich, and a member of the executive board of the Academic Society for Competition Law (Ascola).

Antonio Robles Martín-Laborda, Dr. (University of Madrid), is assistant professor of commercial law at the Universidad Carlos III de Madrid, Spain.

Iwakazu Takahashi, Ph.D. (Waseda University), is professor emeritus at Meiji University, Tokyo, Japan.

Toshiaki Takigawa, MBA (UC Berkeley), is professor of law at Kansai University, Osaka, Japan. Before entering academia, he worked for the Fair Trade Commission of Japan.

Stefan Thomas, Dr. iur. (Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz), is professor of law at the Eberhard Karls University Tübingen, Germany, and holder of the chair for private law, business law, competition and insurance law.

Lúcio Tomé Feteira, Ph.D. (EUI), is assistant professor and coordinator of the Master's Programme in Public Law at Nova Law School, Lisbon, Portugal, and a lawyer at Luís Silva Morais, Sérgio Gonçalves do Cabo & Associados.

Pieter Van Cleynenbreugel, Ph.D. (KU Leuven), LL.M. (Harvard), is professor of European Union law at the Université de Liège, Belgium, where he is also affiliated with the Liège Competition and Innovation Institute (LCII).

Florian Wagner-von Papp, Dr. iur. (Eberhard Karls University Tübingen), is professor of antitrust and comparative law and economics at University College London (UCL), and currently also pro tempore professor of private and business law at the Helmut Schmidt University of the Armed Forces, Hamburg.