
Contents

List of editors and contributors	ix
PART I SETTING THE STAGE
1 Mapping the emerging field of responsible management: domains, spheres, themes, and future research Oliver Laasch, Roy Suddaby, R. Edward Freeman and Dima Jamali	2
2 Can management ever be responsible? Alternative organizing and the three irresponsibilities of management Kiri Langmead, Chris Land and Daniel King	40
3 What 'are' responsible management? A conceptual potluck Archie B. Carroll, Nancy J. Adler, Henry Mintzberg, François Cooren, Roy Suddaby, R. Edward Freeman and Oliver Laasch	56
PART II ICONIC VIEWS
4 Mintzberg on (ir)responsible management Henry Mintzberg and Oliver Laasch	73
5 From managerial responsibility to CSR and back to responsible management Archie B. Carroll and Oliver Laasch	84
6 Responsible management as re-enchantment and retrovation Roy Suddaby and Oliver Laasch	91
7 Responsible leadership and management: key distinctions and shared concerns Nancy J. Adler and Oliver Laasch	100
8 From 'management sucks' to 'responsible management rocks!' R. Edward Freeman and Oliver Laasch	113
PART III MANAGEMENT FRAMEWORKS
9 Sustainability management from a responsible management perspective Markus Beckmann, Stefan Schaltegger and Nancy E. Landrum	122
10 Responsible leadership and/versus responsible management Tânia M. G. Marques and Jorge F. S. Gomes	138
11 Ethics management and ethical management: mapping criteria and interventions to support responsible management practice Mihaela Constantinescu and Muel Kaptein	155

12	Responsible governance: broadening the corporate governance discourse to include positive duties and collective action Rob van Tulder and Eveline van Mil	175
13	Humanistic management as integrally responsible management? Michael Pirson	195
14	Bioinspiration as a guide for responsible management Taryn L. Mead and Nancy E. Landrum	212

PART IV GLOCAL AND SPIRITUAL PERSPECTIVES

15	The United Nations Global Compact and the Sustainable Development Goals Andreas Rasche	228
16	The multinational perspective on responsible management: managing risk-responsibility trade-offs across borders Rob van Tulder	242
17	Responsible management: an Indigenous perspective Jason Paul Mika, Rick Colbourne and Shamika Almeida	260
18	Islamic perspective of responsible management Yusuf Sidani	277
19	Catholic social teaching and responsible management Domènec Melé	292
20	Responsible management with Chinese characteristics Pingping Fu, Qing Qu, Bo Yang and Huihua Jiang	304
21	The Japanese perspective on responsible management Naoki Kuriyama	318
22	Responsible managers for the common good: African (Igbo and Yoruba) perspectives on responsible management Kemi Ogunyemi and Ogechi Obiorah	332
23	“Honorable merchant” and “handshake quality”: interpretations of individually responsible leadership Stéphanie Looser and Joachim Schwalbach	345
24	American pragmatism and responsible management: the role of John Dewey Svetlana N. Dmitrieva, R. Edward Freeman and Sergiy D. Dmytriyeu	364

PART V CONCEPTUALIZING PROCESS AND PRACTICES

25	Corporate social responsibility at the individual level of analysis: research findings that inform responsible management “in the wild” Chelsea R. Willness, David A. Jones, Nicole Strah and Deborah E. Rupp	375
----	---	-----

26	Enacting responsible management: a practice-based perspective Oriana Milani Price, Silvia Gherardi and Marie Manidis	392
27	Beauty of responsible management: the lens and methodology of organizational aesthetics Antonio Strati	410
28	The emerging logic of responsible management: institutional pluralism, leadership, and strategizing Nevena Radoynovska, William Ocasio and Oliver Laasch	420
29	Responsible management of sustainability tensions: a paradoxical approach to grand challenges Connie Van der Byl, Natalie Slawinski and Tobias Hahn	438
30	Consensus vs. dissensus: the communicative constitution of responsible management Dennis Schoeneborn, Hannah Trittin-Ulbrich and François Cooren	453
31	Managing the past responsibly: a collective memory perspective on responsibility, sustainability and ethics Sébastien Mena and Jukka Rintamäki	470
PART VI LEARNING AND DEVELOPMENT
32	Responsible managers' workplace learning Olga Andrianova and Elena Antonacopoulou	485
33	Responsible management unlearning Tali Padan and Nhien Nguyen	501
34	Differentiating CSR managers' roles and competencies: taking conflicts as a starting point Renate Wesselink and Eghe R. Osagie	516
35	Giving voice to values: responsible management as facilitation of ethical voice Carsten Tams and Mary C. Gentile	532
36	A strength-based approach to responsible management: professional moral courage and moral competency Leslie E. Sekerka	549
37	The dynamics of responsible careers and their impact on societal issues: a conceptual framework Svenja Tams	565
PART VII INNOVATION AND CHANGE
38	Responsible job crafting Lorenzo Bizzi	583

39	Whistleblowing as a crucial practice for responsible management Luca Carollo, Simone Pulcher and Marco Guerci	594
40	Responsible management of innovation in business Thomas B. Long, Edurne Iñigo and Vincent Blok	606
41	Social innovation: specifying pathways for impact Christian Seelos and Johanna Mair	624
42	Innovating business models for sustainability: an essential practice for responsible managers Steve Kennedy and Nancy Bocken	640
43	Institutional work and (ir)responsible management Lauren McCarthy and Sébastien Mena	654
44	Memes, transformational change, and responsible leadership Sandra Waddock	670

PART VIII ENGAGED RESEARCH

45	Critically responsible management: agonistic answers to antagonistic questions Marton Racz and Simon Parker	686
46	Realizing the critical performative potential of responsible organizational research through participant action research Kiri Langmead and Daniel King	700
47	Inquiring into change and innovation for greater responsibility through an appreciative inquiry lens 'Alim J. Beveridge, Lindsey Godwin and Ignacio Pavez	715
48	Creating standards for responsible translation of management research for practitioners Isabelle Yi Ren and Jean M. Bartunek	729
49	Using the past responsibly: what responsible managers and management academics can learn from historians' professional ethics Christian Stutz and Judith Schrempf-Stirling	745
	Index	759